

Advanced Placement United States History

Summer Assignment 2025-26

Over the course of the next year we will get to learn about the entirety of U.S. History from 1491- today in our journey to prepare for the AP U.S. History exam in May. This may seem like a daunting task, but we will get there together. One of our course goals is for everyone to take the exam and for everyone to get a score they can be proud of. However, regardless of the outcome, a test score does not define you and this course is much more than just test preparation. The work we do throughout the upcoming year will serve you long past the exam and truly help you contextualize the world you live in and the society you are a part of.

In order to set you up for success, We are giving you a summer assignment designed to help you start the year strong. This work will help you build a background of American history and get a feel for the type of work we will do this year.
